

Reflection Journal

Three takeaways, one win, one question, one intention · Module 1, Training 5

How to use this page

Give yourself ten quiet minutes. Write in full sentences if you can; the act of putting feelings into words is itself a regulating practice (expressive-writing research, Pennebaker & Beall; Smyth, Journal of Consulting and Clinical Psychology). Keep this journal; you'll re-read it in Module 7.

Module 1 in one glance

TRAINING	THE IDEA	MY ACTION WAS...
T1 · Introduction	The 90-day window and the five pillars	☐ done ☐ partly ☐ not yet
T2 · Cravings & triggers	Cravings are signals; three buckets; tracking	☐ done ☐ partly ☐ not yet
T3 · Mindset	Growth mindset; affirmations; grace over guilt	☐ done ☐ partly ☐ not yet
T4 · Partner	Half of fertility is male-factor; couples change together	☐ done ☐ partly ☐ not yet

"Partly" and "not yet" are honest answers, not failures.

My three key takeaways (50 XP)

3.

What shifted for me

Not what I did — what changed in how I think or feel:

One win to celebrate

(Identifying one trigger counts. An awkward but honest partner conversation counts.)

One thing I'm still unsure about (bring this to the forum)

My one-week intention (30 XP)

Phrase it as an implementation intention — "When X happens, I will do Y" — the form that dramatically improves follow-through (Gollwitzer & Sheeran, Advances in Experimental Social Psychology).

When _____

I will _____

Where I'll write a reminder: ☐ phone lock screen ☐ fridge ☐ bathroom mirror ☐ journal cover

Daily tick: ☐ Mon ☐ Tue ☐ Wed ☐ Thu ☐ Fri ☐ Sat ☐ Sun

For my partner or support person

One thing I'd like them to know about this week:

Looking ahead

Module 2 (Nutrition for Optimal Fertility) opens on Day 7. The pillar I'd most like nutrition to help with is: ☐ steadier energy ☐ fewer cravings ☐ better sleep ☐ hormone balance ☐ eating as a team
